

I was convicted by what I experienced that night because I often see churches that show little excitement about getting together to pray. We who have experienced Yeshua should have more excitement than anyone.

One of our camps have a program entitled “Revamp Camp.” It is a time to make repairs and do necessary things to beautify the facility. I’m asking this month that we “Revamp Prayer.” Let’s join together with our community of believers in a prayer meeting where we pray for our soon coming KING!

How to pray for our Bishop

- For the “Transformation – strategic planning” process; the finalization of the team and timetable as well as preparations for the 1st meeting on Sept 26.
- For the identification of new church planting, church restart, and church revitalization opportunities.
- That our commitment to live as “sent people” going into our communities to disciple people to Christ by being with and among them continues to deepen.
- That our recent training event in “Transformational Coaching” will enhance our ability to make disciples, equip leaders, and empower ministry.
- That congregations will continue to weather the financial adversity of our times with faith and grace.
- Praise for an excellent response on the part of our pastors & families to the appeal to participate in the Wellness Initiative designed to help manage insurance care costs and improve personal health. Pray for those not yet signed up to join in.
- For my family and I to experience a genuine time of “Sabbath” rest and renewal during vacation.

HeartCry Prayer Letter and Calendar

The Wailing Wall

Recently I visited the Wailing Wall in Jerusalem on Friday night the start of Shabot. After entering through the Joffa Gate we made our way into the old city. We went through several security points in which we were checked for weapons but also to see if we were dressed modestly. This is a very Holy site to the Jews. This wall that they fill with their prayers on tiny pieces of paper is next to the wall of the original temple mount.

There was such excitement as thousands of Jews of many different sects cried out to God for the Nation of Israel. There were young Israeli soldiers that joined into the festivities. Some cried, some joined in dancing, some visited with friends that they hadn’t seen in a long time. The children joined with the parents in the appropriate place for the men or the women.

It was easy to get caught up in the excitement. I had to remind myself that in all their display of patriotism they are praying for the Messiah to come that has already been here. Jesus Christ has come and redeemed mankind from the curse of the Law. Hallelujah!
